

Something that inspires me to go to college is just the ability to play sports. I am a very athletic person. One reason why I want to go to college is so I can get an education and so I can possibly go to the WNBA or the professional softball league. Some goals I have for the future are I kinda already h told you but that's not all. I also wanna be a teacher after my sports years. I also wanna try and go to the NFL but i highly doubt that because i'm a girl. I have many dreams and I really hope I accomplish them.

The person that has improved my life and influenced me to go to college was My grandma because she was a teacher and I want to be a teacher. Some things that I hope to gain in college os Skills in either sports or education or both. Another thing that I want to gain from a college education is personal goals. I am not that great at goals. I can't reach them. I always forget and never set good ones. One degree that I would want to do or need to become a teacher would be my bachelors degree. It interests me because it would let me be a teacher when I get out of college and when I'm done with my sports career. I also kinda wanna be a coach. For when I get done with college and my sports.

I don't think I have faced any obstacles or challenges in my journey towards college. One might be my ability to write. My handwriting is not the greatest but I am getting better at it. They challenges or obstacles that have faced me have shaped me because I get bullied because my handwriting is bad so I try to make it better so I don't get bullied. Some strengths and qualities that I bring to the college environment are that I'm really kind and I am very friendly and I can help people with anything that they need. If there are any future obstacles that I will need to overcome, I will try my best to overcome them. If those are hard challenges I will make sure that they don't shape who I am. I will do anything to make sure that I don't change who I am if I get a hard challenge.

My main point of this whole thing was to tell you why I want to go to college. My main reason/Reasons why i wanna go to college is because i wanna be a teacher. I also wanna go play sports when I'm older. I also really hope to go to the major softball league or the WNBA. College is important to me because it is how I'm going to become a teacher and how I am gonna be able to play sports. I really hope to go to a great college and get a teachers education. I am very thoughtful of where I go and what I will do later in life. I really hope to get into a great college and go to college. College will be the best thing that happens in my life.
